

New Year's Day Celebration Snowshoe

January 01, 2019

Lead by Ila, a total of 20 snowshoers braved the chilling temperature for a foray along the trails at the St. Kateri Outdoor Centre.

Aside from the odd Common Raven and Black-capped Chickadee, there was not much activity on the wildlife front.

A brief stop for lunch against a sunny outcropping and a New Year's Day celebratory maple creme swig (thanks, Richard), marked the start of the return leg.

A few ups and downs later and we were back where we started. It was a beautiful, bright, sunny start to 2019.
